NEWARK ONCE
MORE A MEMBER OF INTERNATIONALS

The Akron Franchise Is Purchased by Jerseyites for $25,000.

Newark was returned to the kindly embrace of the New International League by a vote of its club owners at the Hotel Commodore yesterday and the reunion of the old and the new, so-called as it may have been, was not without a dissenting clamor from the general direction of Akron, O., and Montreal, Canada.

It was returned through the agency of Roy Mack, owner of the team, Connie, whose offer of $25,000 was deemed sufficient and enough to magnify to cover the transfer of the Akron franchise to the thriving community at the other end of the Tube, but quite inadequate by the Akron interests.

The latter had already closed with Montreal for a consideration of $41,000, and the fact that this was declared void by the vote of the league yesterday will be made the subject of a suit for the recovery of the difference between the Newark and Montreal offers, according to President Joseph Thomas of Akron. The suit, he said, would either be brought before Judge Landis or in the civil courts.

With the Basketball Players

The following notes from the publicity manager of the Knickerbocker Basketball team speak for itself:

"Starting Sunday the Knickerbockers will play only teams who claim any city or State titles, so their opponents next Sunday will be the strong Nanticoke team of the Penn State League. So it looks as if the Knickerbockers are in for a beating which ought to be a good game."

Pretty soft for the Nanticoke, winning before they start. The Knicks have a good team though, and this may be propaganda.

Brooklyn's biggest boxing club, the Flatbush Sporting Club, which has a seating capacity of 5,000 persons and is located on Bedford Avenue, opposite Ebbets Field, will stage its opening show to-night. Matchmaker Quixley is using the proper judgment in starting his club as a popular priced institution. The fight fans across the big bridge don't like to pay those fancy rates to see the scrappies in action. In the main go Harvey Bright and Dutch Brandt, the Brooklyn featherweights, will battle for fifteen rounds, while in the semi-final of ten rounds Abe Goldstein, the crack New York bantamweight, meets George Thompson of California for ten rounds. There will be four other bouts between evenly matched battlers.

Battling Ortaga, the rugged middleweight of California, and Frank Carbone, the local Italian fighter, will battle for fifteen rounds at the Pioneer Sporting Club on East 24th Street to-night. Midge Smith, the popular local bantamweight.

A CLEVER GUARD.

Tom Barry, one of the most popular boys playing the court game, covers a guard position for the St. James Triangles of Brooklyn. He is one of the fastest men on the floor and has a sure and accurate eye when shooting baskets. hard fight against Champion Joe Egan in bouts at St. Louis and the National A. C. of Philadelphia, has been secured to meet Terry Higgins of Pennsylvania in a ten-round bout at Wilkes-Barre, Pa. to-night. White takes the place of Ray Moore, who injured his shoulder and had to call off the fight.

Johnny Smith, the west side middleweight, O. artist, expects to add another title to his list by defeating Pat Bishop in the semi-final of the Otaga-Carbone bout at the Pioneer Sporting Club to-night. Smith is expected by Mike O'Keefe.

A new contender for the world's bantamweight crown has arisen upon the pugilistic horizon, namely, Murray Schwartz, the former amateur bantamweight champion. The former again came into the ring in street training at drop's gymnasium preparing himself for a strenuous campaign.

Tom O'Rourke has taken another fighter under his management. He is "Boss" Hanson, a welterweight, of Elgin, Ill., who has had eight fights in a year and won all of them. Hanson was formerly a football player and is well known in the West. Bill Jordan, the basketball critic of Chicago, said: "Hanson is O'Rourke."

In order to conduct his club successfully, Matchmaker Quixley of the Flatbush Sporting Club has engaged fifteen policemen and thirty ushers, while the fight shows, to preserve order and also to see that the people get their share of the show's opening show to-night. Johnny Hansen will have charge of the ushers.

Hansen Kato and Dave Orsini, the Jersey City fight promoters, are now conducting a boxing club at Havana, Cuba. They have arranged arrangements for their first show here, which will be staged on March 11. Bill Hansen, owner, has booked a one in street training at drop's gymnasium, and there will be another bout.

Andy O'Rourke, the promising New York middleweight, was asked with an attack of gastritis at the end of the sixth round of his go with Walter Lewis in the midweight Green Sporting Club on last Saturday night, which was responsible for his defeat. Andy is much better now, and he would like to get on a return bout with Lewis.

Tom Moarrie, manager of the Commodore's Sporting Club of Harlem, to-day closed a business trip to New Brunswick, where he has booked a one in street training at drop's gymnasium, and there will be another bout.

John J. Sharkey has taken charge of the Brooklyn featherweights, Joe Harrison. In his recent bout in Brooklyn Sharkey has proved himself quite a clever and not ambitious to rise to lead him to more important engagements in the local ring.

Jack Malone of St. Paul, who recently defeated Soldier Hartfield of Brooklyn in a ten-round bout at Minneapolis, will try and do the same thing in St. Louis in a ten-round bout at St. Paul on the night of March 11. Two more were matched by telegram to-day, Longfellow's manager accepting the terms offered by the club owners.

Jeff Smith is booked up for two more contests. On March 8 he battles Pat McCarthy of Boston for ten rounds at Worcester, Mass., and on March 15 he will meet George Thompson at New York in a twelve-round go at Frank De Moya's club at Port Jervis, Mo. Smith should have no trouble in out-pointing both of his opponents.

Bob Mohr, the veteran light heavyweight of Milwaukee, who has been trying hard to get on a bout at one of the local clubs but without success, will go against Bud Gorman, a light heavyweight of the West, in a ten-round bout at a show to be staged at Kenosha, Wis., on March 8. Mohr's long experience may enable him to beat his young opponent.

Bryan Dewey of Columbus, the game middleweight, has been signed up for another hard battle. His opponent in this affair will be Battling Ortaga, the California middleweight, who has won all the fights he has so far engaged in in the East. They will clash in a twelve-round bout at a question at Canton, O., on March 17.

Johnny Joyce, manager of Willie Spencer, the crack east side bantam who has not yet lost a decision under the Walrus law, may be would like nothing better than to have his protégé meet Joe Kewch for the title. He says he will make a big side bet that Spencer will win the championship.

Shamus O'Brien, the aggressive light boxer of London, has been matched by his manager, Jack Brown, to meet Phil Brown, the powerful Brooklyn welterweight, at the Ridgewood Grove A. C. on March 20.

George Engel, manager of Harry Greb of Pittsburgh, declared to-day that nothing would please him better than to make a match for Greb with Mike O'Dowd, who has not fought in some time. Engel says that a go between the men at one of the Boston clubs would probably draw a gate of over $50,000. Engel is waiting to hear from O'Dowd's manager.

Although Gusbat Smith has not fought in this vicinity in years, his followers are all deeply interested in his re-bout on with Al Roberts of Boston last night, which will be staged at the Commodore's Sporting Club of Harlem on next Wednesday night. Smith men being doggers, the chances are that one of them will be knocked out.

PHILADELPHIA, March 4.—Chicago schoolboys won three of the four events yesterday in their skating match with Philadelphia schoolboys at the Ice Palace. Friday afternoon was the only 10.40 boy to win, taking the 550-yard handicap Senior High School race, in 1 minute 11 seconds.

The feature of the meet was the 2734 yard Junior High School race, in which Jimmy Thompson, the 10-year-old Chicago lad, conceded handicaps up to 19 yards, and won with ease from a big field.

The visitors were taken on a boat ride down the Delaware River today as the guests of the city and later visited Independence Hall, Christ Church and other places of historic interest. They

The teams of Brocca and Caburn, Reg and Van Kempen and Rutt and Lorens will be the favorite combinations in the six-day race starting Sunday night at Madison Square Garden.
